

WILSON SHOOTING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Defense Lays Their Case Before the Jury, Asserting That Direct Aim Was Impossible

BERT WILSON ON TRIAL

Contention of Defense is That Wilson Could Not Have Fired at his Wife With Straight Aim

The shooting of Maggie Wilson, by her husband Bert Wilson, who is on trial in the circuit court, charged with assault with intent to kill, was an accident and an impossible feat to get direct aim at Mrs. Wilson, were the outstanding points in the defense, offered at the trial today.

Evidence was completed shortly after court this afternoon, and the arguments were started. Each side was allowed an hour and it was expected that the case would be given to the jury at four o'clock for their deliberation.

The state finished with their portion of evidence, charging in their testimony that the husband came home early one Sunday morning recently, and attempted to kill his wife by shooting her.

The defense, in the opening statement by Raymond Springer, attorney, outlined the plan of procedure stating that they would prove that the location of the two persons in the house, was not in a direct line with each other, and that it would not have been possible for Wilson to have shot directly at his wife with the intention of killing her.

The bullet, as fired by Wilson on that early morning, struck his wife in the arm, between the elbow and shoulder. The shot went through, and lodged within the chest, and did not cause any serious results.

The state contended that the shooting was done with the intent purpose in mind of Wilson to kill his wife. The defense, on the other hand, contends in their testimony that the discharge of the gun was an accident, and that no direct aim could have been made at the woman.

Among the witnesses used this morning by the defense were many character witnesses, called upon to testify concerning their opinion of the defendant as to his reputation for peace and quietude.

The divorce suit of Hazle Snider against Oren Snider, which was heard recently, was decided by the court and the plaintiff awarded a decree.

RAILROAD CONSIDERS PLAN FOR A SPECIAL

Basketball Fans of Columbus, Shelbyville and Rushville May be Accommodated on Saturday

FOR THE RICHMOND TOURNEY

A special train over the Pennsylvania railroad to accommodate basketball fans and teams, to play at Richmond, was practically assured today, according to an announcement received from the general passenger agent at Louisville, in a communication to J. M. Higgins, local representative.

Mr. Higgins made inquiry Sunday on the plan, and this morning the plans were being made by the railroad company to operate a train Saturday for the convenience of the teams and fans from Columbus, Shelbyville and Rushville.

The arrangements to be completed will set out the time for the train. In all probability the train will leave Columbus in time to arrive in Richmond by noon. This would prevent the fans from attending the two morning games, of which there is little interest. All three teams, Shelbyville, Columbus and Rushville play in the afternoon and night games.

The train would return, leaving Richmond after the final game at night. Ample accommodations would be provided for all passengers, and it would keep the fans and teams together, being especially better for the teams than riding in machines. Further details will be announced later, concerning the rates, schedule and other items of interest.

Fire Whistle Is Signal For Phone Calls

People Warned That it is Waste of Time to Call Fire Department, Telephone Office or Newspaper Office for Information. Whistle to Sound Box Number, if Box is Pulled.

People of Rushville, especially the women, always display a great deal of curiosity when the fire siren blows a general fire alarm. Telephones are kept busy as soon as the whistle blows. Phones that are especially worked overtime are the ones at the fire station, water and light plant, telephone office and the Daily Republican office.

As a rule, information as to the location of the fire cannot be given by any of these agencies, and it is useless to call in. When a fire is telephoned into the fire station, only the firemen who are on their way to the blaze, know where it is—the telephone exchange, water and light employees or anyone else, don't know.

The purpose of the general fire alarm is to warn people to be on the lookout for the apparatus. It is not for the purpose of inducing a crowd to collect, and as a matter of fact, the firemen do not want a crowd, it is pointed out.

If the alarm is from a box on a street corner, the siren will blow the box number after the general fire alarm signal has been sounded, according to the decision reached by the council. A telephone alarm cannot define the location of the fire.

RUSHVILLE WILL BE A PATTERN FOR ADE STORY

Tom J. Geraghty Will Pay Tribute to His Fondness for His Own Home Town in Picture

ENTITLED "OLD HOME WEEK"

Rushville, Ind., will be patterned as nearly as possible for some of the scenes of "Old Home Week" the George Ade story, which will be the next starring vehicle for Thomas Meighan, according to Tom J. Geraghty, scenarist for the picture, who has been a guest at the Fleetwood hotel, according to a dispatch to the Indianapolis Star from Miami, Fla. The cast, which includes Lila Lee, is now filming scenes at Ocala, Fla., and will later return to Miami, which will supply location for the rest of the picture.

Mr. Geraghty also plans to make use of the distinctive background offered by Miami and Miami Beach in a story written for the screen around charming Bebe Daniels. Although Mr. Geraghty now calls New York home, "Old Home Week" will be a tribute to his particular fondness for Rushville, his own home town. From the editorship of the Rushville Republican, Mr. Geraghty went to New York as a special writer for the New York Herald, and he is now accounted one of the most successful scenario writers of the country.

MEDALS PRESENTED IN LATIN CONTEST

Dr. J. C. Sexton Makes Presentation Address to Five Winners in County Event

RECIPIENTS IN RESPONSE

Dr. J. J. Ray, Member of Richmond Rotary Club, Speaks Entertainingly to Local Rotarians

Medals in the county Latin contest, which was held here a week ago last Saturday, were presented at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club today noon and Dr. J. J. Ray, a member of the Richmond Rotary club and pastor of the First Presbyterian church, made a short talk to the club.

The presentation address was made by Dr. J. C. Sexton, who complimented the five girls present for their industry in excelling in Latin. Each of the girls responded with a short talk, expressing appreciation for the interest shown in them by the Rotary club.

The medals were presented to Jean Craig, winner of first place in the freshman class division; Laura McMakin and Eulalia Hinehman, winners of first and second places in the sophomore class section; Evangeline Morgan and Viola Jay, who placed first and second in the third division for Cicero students; Miss Mary Maud Reed and Miss Julia McKibben, winners in the fourth division, also students of the Rushville high school, and Agnes Handly, a student of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home in Center township, winner of second place in the freshman division, were unable to be present.

Dr. Ray spoke entertainingly of his experience in Rotary and paid a high compliment to the organization, in which, he said, he valued very highly.

Arrangements were made at the meeting for nine members of the Rushville club to go to Columbus, Ind., tonight for the formal presentation of a charter to the new Rotary club lately organized there.

DEFECTIVE FLUE BLAMED

A defective flue at the residence of George Roller, 601 North Arthur street, was the cause for a fire alarm Monday afternoon shortly before three o'clock. The roof had caught fire around the chimney, and the blaze was soon extinguished when the firemen arrived. The loss was estimated at about $5.

COLD WAVES IS ON THE WAY

Mercury Will Drop to Freezing by Morning, Is Predicted

Indianapolis, Ind., March 10—The wave of spring weather which carried temperatures 27 degrees above the normal for this time of year, will end late today, according to the weather bureau.

Cold winds from the northwest will carry the temperature down to the freezing point tonight, it was predicted.

The weather prediction for the next twenty-four hours, issued today, stated that the cold wave was due late tonight, and remain over Wednesday, with generally fair weather.

BOOSTERS BANQUET NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

Report of Activities of Fiscal Year Will be Made and New Plans Will be Outlined

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED TODAY

Dinner at Social Club Will be For all Those Who Attended First Meeting of Committee

The program was completed today for the annual Boosters' banquet, which will be held at the Social club rooms next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

At that time the report of the activities of the Rush County Boosters committee for the fiscal year will be presented and plans will be outlined for the coming year's work. Cards have been sent to Rushville men attending last year's banquet, urging their attendance at the second annual banquet, so that they may be given first hand information about what the committee has been doing during the year now closing.

The committee met a few weeks ago and elected new officers and set the date for the annual banquet.

Plans for the coming year have also been formulated and will be presented at the meeting.

The program committee has announced the following program:

1. President's Address—Hugh Mauzy.
2. The City and The Country—Paul Allen.
3. Solo, "Silver Threads Among the Gold"—B. F. Miller.
4. Our Merchants—J. B. Kinsinger.
5. It's Not Your Town—It's You—Continued on Page Three

WATSON ACCEPTS SPEAKING DATES

Now That Congress is Idle, Senior Indiana Senator Will Make Few Non-Political Addresses

FIRST AT HARRISBURG, PA.

Accepts Invitation to Deliver Commencement Address at Indiana State Normal, Terre Haute

(Special to The Daily Republican)

Washington, March 10—Invitations to deliver addresses pour in on Senator Watson from every part of the country most every week of the year. He is recognized as one of the most popular speakers among men in public life, so naturally there is a demand for his oratory.

However, the senator makes it a rule to accept no speaking dates during a session of congress because his official duties are so pressing he can scarcely spare a day from Washington. During the past winter it has been especially important that he remain constantly in the capitol because of his duties as assistant leader of the senate as well as because of important legislation that had to be considered by the major committees of which he is a member.

However, now that the end of congress has come, the senator has accepted a few engagements for addresses on non-political subjects. He is to speak during the spring and summer months before various schools, churches, farmer and business organizations of Indiana. One of his first addresses will be delivered March 27 at Harrisburg, Pa., when the Robert Burns lodge of Masons will observe "Bobby Burns" day. The life and works of the poet will be the Senator's topic.

Mr. Watson has accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address at the Indiana State Normal School at Terre Haute, June 19. He plans to attend the Northern Indiana Methodist Conference to be held at Anderson April 16. Roy A. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, will be a speaker at the conference and the Senator likely will be present to introduce him.

On April 21 the senator will be at Michigan City where he will be a special guest of business men. He likely will discuss the subject of federal taxation and its effect on business conditions. Senator Watson is a member of the Senate committee on finance which deals with taxation and he is known in Washington as one of the Senate's best students of the subject.

Explosion Of 50 Years Ago Recalled Today

Large Boiler in Saw Mill at What is Now Sexton Let Go March 10, 1875, Killing Man and Boy and Scattering Debris in Surrounding Woods and Fields

Today is the fiftieth anniversary of an explosion at what is now Sexton, which cost the lives of two men, it was recalled today by John F. Joyce.

A twenty-one foot two tube boiler let go about ten o'clock in the morning on March 10, 1875, scattering debris over surrounding woods and fields. The explosion occurred in the saw mill of Nelson and Shortridge.

Alfred A. Joyce, older brother of the narrator of the story, and Oscar Hinchman, 15 years old, son of James H. Hinchman, were the two persons killed. Mr. Joyce describes the incident in his own language as follows:

"While two were killed, it was fortunate that the day was clear and the usual crowd of loafers were busy on the farms, otherwise the loss of life might have been appalling for it was a great place for gatherings of farmers and others, whose sociability led them to the mill."

NO HEADWAY MADE ON COMMUNITY BUILDING

No Definite Plans Formulated at Meeting of Commissioners, Council and City School Board

NEXT STEP IS UNCERTAIN

No definite plans were formulated at a meeting of the county commissioners, city council, city school board and Judge Will M. Sparks, in the county auditor's office Monday evening, for the purpose of discussing the proposal that the county and city join in erecting a community building as a memorial to Rush county soldiers in the world war.

The question was discussed from various angles and at the conclusion of the meeting, no definite headway had been reached towards an understanding as to how to proceed. The county commissioners proposed a community building when the city started a project to finance a school gymnasium, and the latter project has been marking time until some definite conclusion is reached regarding the community building.

Sentiment for a gymnasium was disclosed when approximately $5,000 was pledged last Thursday for season tickets to Rushville high school basketball games, during a canvass of the city by high school students. It is believed that more than this sum can be raised through the sale of tickets as many people were missed in the canvass.

SUFFERS CONCUSSION OF BRAIN WHEN TEAM RUNS

Dan Boling, Living East of Rushville, Seriously Injured in Accident Here This Morning

IS EXPECTED TO RECOVER

Dan Boling, who lives on the Ernest Mitchell farm east of the city, was seriously injured this morning, when he was thrown from the big wagon in which he was riding, when his team of horses started to run away.

In his attempts to stop the horses, Mr. Boling succeeded in guiding them into the curbing in front of O'Neal's Implement store in South Main street, and as a result of the compact with the curbing he was thrown from the wagon, striking his head on the pavement.

He suffered a slight concussion of the brain, but otherwise he was not injured.

He was taken into the Scanlan hotel where a doctor was called and he was given a thorough examination. No bones were broken and it is thought he will recover from the concussion.

ASSEMBLY MAKES A GOOD SHOWING

Indiana Legislature Passes into History With Record of Having Passed Few Major Bills

WIELDS AX MORE FREELY

Hopes of Leaders For "Legislative Fast" Partially Realized—Less Than Half of 815 Bills Passed

By RAYMOND A. BRUNER

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 10—Members of the seventy-fourth general assembly turned homeward today after the whirlwind wind-up of the session late Monday night.

As its last important act, the assembly voted the biennial appropriation bill calling for an expenditure of approximately $49,000,000 for the operation of the state government during the next two years.

The 1925 legislature passes into history with the record of having passed fewer major bills and wielding the ax on more measures than any assembly in recent years.

Hopes of Speaker Leslie of the house and Lieutenant Governor Van Orman for a "legislative fast" were at least partially realized.

Only 815 bills were introduced in both houses during the session, and of these less than half became laws.

The chief accomplishment of the legislature was a complete reorganization of the financial system of the state government.

The finance bills passed provided for concentration of all state funds in the general fund of the state treasury, for abolishment of special levies for the state universities and other institutions, and for making the budget advisory committee a permanent body subject to the call of the governor at any time.

The legislature also voted approval of the administration measures for increasing the state gasoline tax from two to three cents and for creation of a state library and historical department by consolidation of five existing bodies.

Other important measures passed were bills provides for:

More strict enforcement of prohibition by codifying existing dry laws and making penalties heavier and conviction easier for their violation. Regulation of commercial busses and trucks through the state public service commission.

Establishments of cooperative marketing associations for the collection and sale of farm products.

Strengthening the hand of the public service commission in regulating utilities through five measures.

CLOTHING, SHOE STORE ROBBED, LITTLE TAKEN

Pair of Discarded Worn Work shoes Left by Thief Only Clue to O. P. C. H. Robbery

STORE ENTERED 3 YEARS AGO

Knecht's clothing store and the Ben A. Cox shoe store, which occupy the same room at 230 North Main street, was entered and robbed last Saturday morning, it was announced today, but very little of any value was taken, according to a check made by the proprietors of the two places.

The only trace they have of the theft is a pair of discarded, worn work shoes, which was left by the intruder. He wore away a new pair taken from the Cox shoe stock. There are no identification marks on the old shoes and they provided no means of obtaining any clue to the identity of the robber.

The thief gained entrance by breaking the glass in the back door and reaching in and unlocking the door. The robbery did not take place until after midnight as E. J. Knecht of the Knecht Clothing company was in the store after that hour and nothing had been disturbed.

Knecht's store was robbed about three years ago and a large quantity of merchandise stolen. The burglars were finally apprehended and sent to prison.

Charles Beason and Laura Beason are plaintiffs in a suit filed against Floyd Porter and Amy Porter, the action being a complaint for eviction and damages. The plaintiffs demand possession of real estate, and for $100 damages.

A suit has been venue here from Decatur county, in which Eva Liggett is plaintiff and Bayard Liggett, is defendant, and the suit is a petition to show cause, involving a court citation for contempt.

The Marion Building and Investment Company have brought suit against Fred H. Dagler and Dorothy L. Dagler, the action being to foreclose on a mortgage, and with the demand for judgment being for $5,000.

The Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church will meet in the parlors of the church Wednesday afternoon. It is very important that all the members be present as business of importance will be transacted at this meeting.

hospitable shelter of the old saw mill. William Nelson was filing the saw, Alfred A. Joyce was engineer, George Kendall was in the saw pit, James H. Hinchman was talking to Shortridge about his sawing while his son Oscar stood holding their horses just east of the north end of the boiler.

"Hurry up Nelson," shouted the engineer. "Steam's getting too high and water low." Only three more teeth to file off. This done, then the signal "let her go" and the engineer stepped between the engine and the boiler to turn her off "dead" after giving her the steam. One revolution of the wheel and the makeshift force pump injected onto bare twisted boiler, smoke stack and ter and the earth shook with the deadly explosion. The air was filled with brick, steam dirt, broken plank, fragments of a torn and twisted boiler, smoke stack and engine and the mangled bodies of young Hinchman and Joyce.

"Hinchman was killed instantly but the team he was holding within thirty feet of the boiler was uninjured while Joyce was found about one hundred twenty feet east of where he stood when the explosion occurred, with the left side of his head caved in. He lived until one o'clock, but never regained consciousness.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Explosion in Store Believed Recurrence Klan and Anti-Klan Feud

(By United Press)

Herrin, Ill., March 10—Two persons are in a hospital today dangerously injured following an explosion in the H. O. Fowler store here last night.

The explosion is believed to be a recurrence of the klan and anti klan feud as Fowler is a klanman. Fowler and his wife lived in an apartment above the brick building and they both were injured by the explosion which rocked the block. Mrs. Fowler is still unconscious and doctors think there is little chance of her recovery.

The explosion, said to have been caused by a dynamite bomb, broke windows in several buildings in the neighborhood.

Prohibition salary in raises for public officials during the term for which they are elected.

Increasing pay of members of the legislature from $5 to $10 a day effective in 1927.

Revaluation of real estate in Indiana this year.

Approximately $10,000 for the relief of relatives of the fifty one miners killed in the disaster at Sullivan.

Appropriating $50,000 to stamp out the European fowl pest in eastern Indiana.

Codifying existing auto laws and making more stringent the penalties for reckless driving.

Increasing the penalties for selling wood alcohol as a beverage.

Providing heavy penalties for "ticket scalping."

Strengthening the mine safety laws and making them applicable to smaller mines of the state.

Putting teeth in the blue sky laws to prevent sale of fraudulent and worthless securities in Indiana.

Authorizing the garnishment of all incomes to pay debts.

Regulating the sale of filled milk and oleomargarine.

The most spectacular feature of the entire session was the bolt of Democratic senators in protest against the Penrod gerrymandering bill and their flight to Dayton, O., to escape arrest when Republican members threatened to bring them into the senate chamber by force.

The Penrod bill, which sought to transfer Lawrence county from the third to the second congressional district to make the latter district safely Republican, was pushed through the senate in the closing day's session.

Democratic members remained silent in their seat and failed to vote on the bill, confident that rules in the house would not permit its consideration by that body at that late hour in the session.

Two Democratic measures—for abolishment of the state oil inspection department and the juvenile probation department—were voted down.

Bills for stricter observance of the Sabbath and for censorship of movies were killed.

Almost without a struggle, the bill to prevent holding of the auto races at the Indianapolis motor speedway on Decoration Day went down to defeat early in the session.

The bill furnished the cause for one of the hottest tilts of the entire session two years ago.

The soldier bonus bill and the county unit bill also were killed.

Other measures which were defeated at various stages in their journey through the legislature provided for:

Creation of a state department of safety.

Elimination of grade crossings.

Death penalty for auto banditry.

Old age pensions.

Increased compensation for working men under the state compensation laws.

Reorganization of the state public service commission.

Establishment of a state constabulary.

Limiting the tax rate of all local units of government to $2.50 per $100.

Revision of the state banking laws.

Abolishing the state fire insurance rate making bureaus.

Providing free text books for public school pupils.

Two legislative investigations, those of the public service commission and the state reformatory at Pendleton ended with praise instead of censure for the officials of the commission and the reformatory.

A third probe started into the affairs of the state highway commission was dropped after the Marion county grand jury had indicted John

THIEF CAPTURED

Desperate Man Behind Bars

Rushville breathes easier this noon after an exciting chase and capture of a noted criminal. This man has been at large for the past six months and has been sought for in many communities.

His terrible crime is that of amusing people. "The Thief of Bagdad" or in other words Douglas Fairbanks was captured in Chicago by the employees of the American Railway Express and was brought to Rushville this morning and is now safely locked in the vaults of the American National Bank of this city. He will be liberated Thursday afternoon for his showing at the Princess Theatre, Thursday Friday and Saturday of this week.

THE costume that has a belt these days is rather rare. This one uses squares of white crepe de chine picoté in, blue with embroidered slits through which a blue ribbon passes. The rest of the costume is inconsequential—blue crepe de chine bound with white.

Think of the Harvest: Whatsoever a man sows, that

6:7

Prayer:—Dear Lord, we thank thee for this truth. May we sow seed that assures us a good harvest.

The Legislature

The seventy-fourth session of the Indiana General Assembly closed
Monday night with an unusually good record to its credit. All critics of the assembly, of course, will not agree on the so-called good and evil legislation enacted, but they can all find a common ground in agreeing that the legislature did not show
such a propensity for passing laws,
as legislatures usually possess.

Only 815 bills were introduced in both branches of the legislature and considerably less than half of the number became laws.

A legislature that is able to resist
the tendency to enact legislation to such a degree that more than fifty percent of the bills are killed, is worthy of some praise.

The chief accomplishment of the legislature was the complete reorganization of the state's financial system. The legislators followed the example of the federal government and enacted a budget law which embraces more than eighty percent of the state's expenses.

Although it may have spoiled
some good legislation, the tendency of house and senate to kill each other's bills had a wholesome effect in preventing the passage of some thoroughly bad laws.

The "republican" "gerrymander
bill" was passed by the senate
when it had little prospect of passing the house at the last moment.

It was equally as fortunate for the taxpayers of Indiana that the "road ripper" bill did not become a law, although passed by the house
when it had no show of being enacted into law through a favorable vote in the senate.

The appropriation bill was finally agreed on at the last hour and passed, minus the item for $150,- 000 for the James Whitcomb Riley hospital. The legislators willingly permitted the omission of this sum,
to be used to restore the lives of little cripples to usefulness and in the same vote concurred in the re-insertion of an item for $150,000 for the old correction department,
which has been condemned times

Coughs and Chest Colds Yield Quickly to Old Time Treatment

Physicians now say the best treatment for a cough is not to merely numb the throat, nerves as many cough medicines do, but to help Nature quickly throw off the cause—congestion and mucus. When this is done
the severest cough is usually relieved in a very short time.

This is exactly the action of that old-
time tried and proved cough medicine,
Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. Doctors say the pine tar is hard to beat for quickly loosening and removing the phlegm and congestion
which are the direct cause of the coughing,
while the honey not only gives a pleasant
taste, but helps soothe soreness and irritation.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey and not some substitute. Dr.
Bell's has been known for many years as the best. It is scientifically composed of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in bringing quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—safe for asthmatic croup. If you want the best—a medicine that relieves a stubborn cough overnight—get
Dr. Bell's. Costs only 50c at all good drug stores.

Gardens

The approach of spring—some call it spring—brings with it thoughts—and much talk—of gardens.

Everyone aspires—that is, most everyone—to be able to point to a plot of ground, carefully laid off, with the proud boast, "that is my garden."

Gardening pays from whatever angle it is considered. The economy of home grown vegetables was demonstrated in the days of the war
and many people then got the garden habit to such an extent that they now regard it a part of their life routine.

The value of vegetables as food, especially for children, has proved an incentive to gardening and has increased the interest of many people in growing much of their own foodstuffs.

The benefits are not alone in foods produced, but in the exercise gained for the gardener is stimulated in both body and mind. Spading the ground and working it, preparing the seed beds and sowing and planting provide a form of exercise that is most helpful and diversified.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—As a bit of national advertising, the Coolidge inaugural excelled
all previous presidential pageants.
This partly because of, partly in spite of, President Coolidge.

From an administration standpoint, the inauguration was shaped further to advertise "Coolidge economy" to the country.

It was designed as a selling demonstration for horse sense and reduced expenditures.

The little two-by-four reviewing stand built in front of the White House, elimination of an elaborate
"court of honor," curtailing of the parade itself and lack of lavish
and expensive decorations all united to give force and effect to the idea of economy.

All this advertising of the administration's viewpoint and purpose was with the full aid and approval of the president.

THE advertising that was achieved in spite of the president, however, was accomplished by the great new Mayflower Hotel, which is making its bid for the patronage of statesmen and dignitaries, and which was hurried to completion in time to cash in on the publicity opportunity presented by an inauguration.

For while an "official" inaugural ball—which would have been held in some commodious public building—was banned by the president,
an "unofficial" charity ball was arranged for the main ball room of the Mayflower Hotel.

As a result of which, news stories and special articles, like this,
have done more to fix the Mayflower in the public mind, as a modern up-to-date Washington hotel
instead of an antiquated sailing vessel, than could have been accomplished in a year by a costly campaign of paid advertising.

HISTORICALLY, the opening of the Mayflower with an inaugural ball, even though same was unofficial, may be more important than it seems on the surface.

It may mark the beginning of a decline in social circles of the prestige assumed by those who never forget to let the world know that their ancestors "came over on the Mayflower."

To the dowager who hereafter
announces her Mayflower descent,
the frivolous flapper of today may make the fitting retort that she herself danced in the Mayflower when Cal took the oath.

In another way, too, the Mayflower marks a step ahead in the capital's evolution. It gives to downtown Washington, a hostelry that is essentially metropolitan in its aspect.

The building is an enormous pile, occupying almost an entire city block.

It offers not only all the "conveniences" but all the frills, including even the wife of a former Russian czarist official as "hostess," to give an atmosphere of distinction and class to its tea room.

WHILE on the subject of hotels, it might be said that Washington is suffering
from an epidemic of hotelitis.

In the past six years the hotel capacity of the capital has more than doubled. During the war period, when a room and bath in Washington brought any price the management had the nerve to ask,
the hotels then here made enormous profits.

And of course there is always the parade of politicians and the men with axes to grind and money to spend for the gridding.
These are the folks who keep the hotels hot.

Visitors who sought shelter for one or two nights during the inauguration, however, were uniformly informed that in order to get quarters for one night they would have to pay for four. No reservations for less than four nights would be booked.

Too much advertising!

Motor Miles
for all Mankind

Inspiring the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is one comprehensive conviction: that the great gift of science to man
—that of motor transportation—should be brought within the reach of all.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is doing its part to bring this condition about by making enough gasoline to meet the demands;
selling it at a low price, and distributing it so widely and so thoroughly that every one may command it at will.

To render a service so essential to the public welfare, an organization must have foresight, initiative, size and power.

To reduce the cost of refining; to standardize the quality of gasoline, and to conquer
the difficulties of thorough distribution, requires vast resources, facilities and experience.

The ideal of service to all, has been the stimulus and incentive behind every expansion of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

In building great steel tanks to hold oil in safety and without waste; in organizing tank
wagon fleets, or building outpost service stations; in devising more economical refinery methods—the determination to serve has inspired the effort that overcame difficulties and made Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products, household words.

This Company has never been baffled by the magnitude or difficulty of any task. It never has shirked toil nor the burden of initiative! It has blazed the trail, and the fruit of its daring is—gasoline for all, at prices all can afford to pay.

The efforts of this Company have been abundantly rewarded. It is axiomatic that genuine service, honestly rendered, always receives its just reward. But the profits won are only part of the pay, for this organization
sincerely rejoices in the thought that through its exertions, motor miles for business or pleasure, have been increased, bringing easier living, better health and wider opportunities to millions of families.

The old battle cry again today: ON TO RICHMOND!

Don't forget to buy your regional ticket early, because it is very probable that the 500 pasteboards will be sold in short order.

A headline in the Seymour Tribune is as follows:

FREETOWN SHOWS FANS REAL STUFF
That is the team Rushville meets at three o'clock Saturday afternoon. Show them real stuff.

Remember this: Freetown must be good, or they wouldn't be there!

Don't make the mistake that has been made in the past. Take 'em as they come. Trounce Freetown and then go after Columbus and step on them. IT MUST BE DONE!

Nine-tenths of the contributors over the state are picking Richmond and Columbus as the two winners in the Richmond regional. That's one reason why Rushville should again turn the trick on Columbus and make 'em like it.

It would be a good thing if Connersville and Rushville could represent the regional, this year. When Connersville is playing Richmond in the 7:30 game Saturday night, boost for Connersville, and join forces in those two night games.

HERE IS SOME DOPE ON FREETOWN

Concerning that Freetown team, of which little is known, the following may be of interest to Coach Swain, members of the team, and others who expect to see the team, in action Saturday. The clipping concerns the game in which they played Saturday at Seymour:

Freetown sprung the great surprise of the tournament when they landed with both feet on Cortland in the 3 o'clock game and had them on the run. Freetown leading 17 to 5 at the end of the first half. Freetown brought in their star men whom they had conserved in the morning game as far as possible, and the boys from Pershing township created the sensation of the day. They kept Kerkhof and Boforff covered and plunked the ball into the basket with some consistency while the crowd howled like Indians. In that first half the line-up started with B. Sprague and Spurgeon at forward, Lucas at center and C. Sprague and Myers at guards for Freetown and Cortland used Boforff and Kerkhof at forwards, Nelson at center and Reedy and Wilson at guards. In field goals B. Sprague rang 2, Spurgeon 2, Lucas 1 and C. Sprague 3 in the first half while Kerkhof and Nelson got 1 each and B. Sprague and Kerkhof each got one from foul.

They continued their attack against Cortland during the second half and emerged victors 28 to 18 and thereby go to the finals with Brownstown this evening at 8 o'clock fresher than the county seat and with some chance of coping the bunting. They have a world of power. Freetown were the favorites with the fans.

In field goals the finals show B. Sprague 4, Spurgeon 3, Lucas 3, C. Sprague 3, all getting into the going with two fouls by B. Sprague.

VINCENNES SAYS THIS:

Marion has won fifteen out of eighteen games played this year. And Vincennes plays Marion in the finals—if the Aliees reach that point.

RUSHVILLE SAYS THIS:

Vincennes may meet Marion, but from the way things are looking now, Marion won't get by Rushville in the first game.

Take 'Em as They Come!

Moscow overlooked Manilla in the tourney last Saturday. Moscow was all keyed up to meet Rushville in the afternoon game, and as they had defeated Manilla four times, it was the least of their worries. These little things sometimes are the biggest stumbling blocks. Moscow defeated Manilla at Manilla 25 to 24; at Blue Ridge 39 to 25; at the Carthage tourney 21 to 13 and at the county tourney 29 to 21. The tables were reversed in the sectional tourney and Manilla won 23 to 24.

THESE GRAPES ARE ALMOST SOUR

Milroy, Ind.

Dear Hittin' 'em:—The tourney is over at last and before it is gone forever I should like to say a word. We have a couple of pretty nice reasons for not beating Rushville. In the first place Moore, our center was off on account of an injured leg. He usually comes in for a good deal of points too, furthermore and it is sure a good thing for the Lions or the score board would have presented an entirely different score when that blamed gun went off.

Selby, our pretty kid, had to take his place and Boring was substituted as forward. This seemed to break up Milroy's scoring machine as Selby is sure a cute one at forward. In the second place our boys and your Roarin' Lions made quite an unusual contrast especially in weight. Rushville had them outweighed good and proper. Say boy, I always thought Archey, our guard, was big, but when I saw that Miller and Lakin, I soon changed my mind and changed it quick. I think "charging Elephants of Rushville" would be a more appropriate name for such giants.

Thank goodness we don't raise any such looking monsters down about Milroy or the whole town would pitch their tents in some land where elephants were extinct, now and forever. I'll have to admit Rushville has a good team but all we needed to make 'em shine was a different floor and our regular line-up and we would have had a nice piece of lion steak.—(The writer continues to offer comments but on account of the length of the contribution, it is cut short. It ends up by saying that he is picking Martinsville to win the state, and not Rushville.)

Yours, A MILROY ROOTER

ANOTHER CENTER WAS OUT

To top off the above, comes a letter from Carthage, signed by a Miss Henley, in which she very nicely says that "if we had our regular center, Heim, Milroy wouldn't have played Rushville in the final game, but it would have been Carthage." The final count was 30 to 23.

BUT THE SECTIONAL IS PAST, AND NOW IT IS UP TO RUSHVILLE TO WIN THE REGIONAL, ON TO RICHMOND!

REVIVAL CONTINUES

The revival at the Wesley M. E. church is continuing this week. Monday evening the pastor, the Rev. F. R. Arnold, spoke of the text from March 5:22, his subject being "The Ever-Ready Christ." Two souls knelt at the altar for prayer and the church is continuing in prayer for these two souls. All are invited to attend these services.

Hockey Boss

Introducing Tommy Gorman, prominent personage in Ottawa hockey circles, who has accepted an offer from Tex Rickard to manage the New York professional hockey team in the National Hockey League. A cold drink of water was Tommy Milton's first request after he had set a new speed record in winning the 250-mile race at Culver City.

Scandal Dimmed

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 10—With all of the major league teams at work in southern training camps and the minors also preparing for the 1925 pennant races, baseball is back again with prominence in sporting chatter.

Even though it is quite apparent that the Dolan-O'Connell scandal has been dropped there are enough indications of interest in the coming season to make it certain that scandal will not affect the popularity of the game.

There always may be a feeling perhaps that the real facts were not made known and that someone was behind Dolan and O'Connell in their attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, the Philadelphia shortstop, but it is not fair to entertain suspicions that there was any official attempts made to hide the guilty ones.

Commissioner Landis went as far as he could. Cozy Dolan wouldn't talk to him and he refused to remember anything when he was examined in the investigation conducted by the district attorney's office in New York. Dolan, it would seem from the developments in the two investigations, held the key to the solution of the case and as long as he refused to talk there could be no hope for a solution.

Among the ball players the belief is almost unanimous that it was a practical joke, although a very dangerous form of amusement. Fans, however, find it hard to believe that ball players would go to such hazardous limits for entertainment. It has been suggested that Sand was picked out because he was of the O'Connell unsophisticated type and they never thought that he would talk. If that is the case, practical jokers should pick their spots better in the future.

John A. Heydler, president of the National League, is one of those who ridicule the idea that it was a joke. "Under the conditions and at that particular time, it hardly could have been meant as a joke," he said commenting upon the case.

It is quite certain also unless ball players are more thick above the eyebrows than they are generally rated, that Cozy Dolan and the other players involved would have said that it was a big joke before the scandal had been made public. The joke alibi came a little bit late to be taken.

NAMES

YOU meet Mr. Howard and Mr. Walters in a gathering. Their names are to you but two of many you hear.

A few days later you meet Mr. Howard again. And again. He becomes a friend, perhaps an intimate in your social as well as business life.

Mr. Howard's name grows to mean a lot to you. Mr. Walters is rarely seen again and soon forgotten.

In this newspaper are other names — names of advertised products. Day after day you see them. They are like old friends—to be trusted. Their names mean economy, full value and integrity.

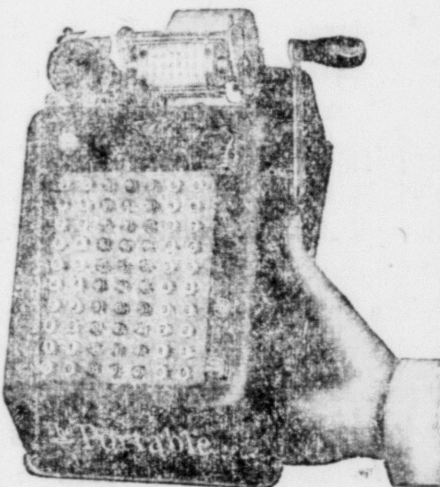

The unadvertised products — perhaps you see one in a store — or in a friend's home. Soon the name is forgotten — a stranger about whom you know little.

Fill your medicine closet, your pantry, your wardrobe with products whose names are guarantees of their integrity — advertised products. Like intimate friends — you know what they are and will do.

Read the advertisements in the afternoon papers to know the names that are worth knowing in the market place.

Suffered Two Years, Relieved By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

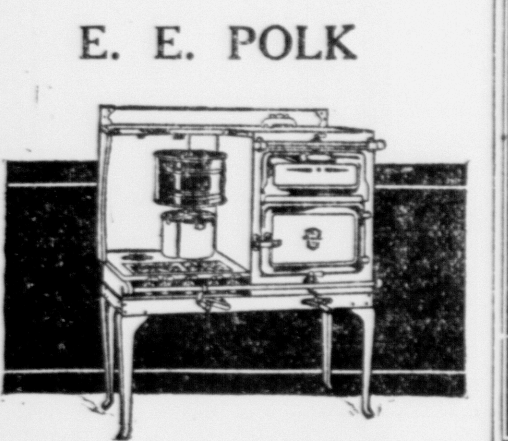

Marshalltown, Iowa. — "At the time I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a telephone operator, and had been suffering for two years with bearing-down pains and cramps in my legs so I could scarcely walk. At times I could not do any kind of work on account of my trouble. My mother was taking the medicine for the change of life and she thought it would help me and it did. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I recommend your medicines to my friends and I will answer all letters asking about them." — Mrs. P. E. Everts, Box 149, Marshalltown, Iowa.

Mrs. Norton's Experience
"Before I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was weak and nervous, and had such terrible dizzy spells that I could not stand some days. I had no appetite, was restless at night and felt all run-down. My husband got me a bottle of the Vegetable Compound and I am surprised at the results after taking it." — Mrs. CLARENCE S. SPRING

Spring is synonymous with hope and hope with rebirth. It has a smell all its own, a spirit its own, a temperament quite unique. We love it for all these and we are rushed off our feet to follow it, each year. We express ourselves through our gardens, our scrubbery, in short we give her every opportunity to use us as her agent for natural beauty at a time when nature is teeming.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has a garden week—April 19, to 26—during which time the individual club is asked to stress the individual garden. Then there is a reawakened interest in the "plant a tree" movement. Organized women throughout our United States have used their influence to encourage the planting of trees. Some have been memorial to individuals; avenues of trees have been planted honoring our recent war victims. Community Christmas trees, fine specimens of the fast-disappearing evergreen fir, have been forever preserved by women who have feared for the perpetuity of this magnificent species. Millions are sacrificed annually for Christmas trees but our federation, president, Mrs. Sherman, presents the delightful idea that we transplant one to our own yard as a permanent institution.

These are worthwhile activities within the reach and interest of every club. Would it not prove an exquisite pleasure to some Rush county club to propose and further some such measure as would prove a lasting memorial in its community? Plant a tree, plan a flower garden, or improve your scrubbery while the vigor and inspiration of spring courses through your being.

HOW SINCLAIR OPENED NEGOTIATIONS WITH FALL

Details Given in Deposition of Sinclair's Attorney Read at Teapot Dome Trial

FALL ARRIVES IN CHEYENNE

Federal Court room, Cheyenne, Wyo., Mar. 10—How Harry Sinclair and his personal attorney, Col. J. W. Zevely of Washington, opened negotiations with former secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall at his three Rivers, New Mexico, home, was detailed to the court today in the Teapot Dome trial.

Zevely's deposition was read by Owen J. Roberts, of the government council. The testimony told how Sinclair and Zevely, after seeing Fall at Three Rivers, December 31, 1921, presented a bid on February 3, with the government which would save its oil from drainage, secure a pipe line and other alleged advantages.

Fall had not arrived in Cheyenne early today. He was reported in Denver waiting until he was called by the government. Sinclair was waiting at his hotel here where he has forty rooms for his entourage.

DOUSTED SENATORS TO CARRY FIGHT AT HOME

The Four Who Were Reduced to the Bottom of Committee Lists, Will Appeal to Their Voters

LAFOLLETTE IN THE LIST

Washington, March 10—The four ousted senate Republicans intend to carry their protests to their constituents this summer.

Rebellious at the action of the senate in adopting the plan of Republican leaders, which drops Senators Ladd, North Dakota, Frazier, North Dakota, Republican; Brookhart, Iowa, Republican and LaFollette, Wisconsin, Republican, to the bottom of the committee lists. The members intend to appeal in speeches to the voters back home.

The three members of the quartet now here, believe the Republicans of their states have been deprived of their privileges. LaFollette is now in Florida.

The report of the majority confirmed the ouster proceedings was adopted by a vote of 64 to 11 by the senate late yesterday after a five hour floor fight.

APPROVES SENATE'S ACTION

President Coolidge in Favor of Ousting Insurgents

(By United Press)

Washington, March 10—President Coolidge thoroughly approved of the expulsion by the republican senate majority of the four LaFollette supporters from committee chairmanships and assignments, it was said at the White house today.

The spokesmen for the president said Mr. Coolidge did not regard the expulsion of the independents as either punishable or discipline but rather fulfillment of a promise made during the last campaign.

"The Man Who Fights Alone"

"The Man Who Fights Alone" at the Castle today is unusual in theme and gripping in story. What is more it marks the screen comeback of William Farnham, this time under the Paramount banner. On top of that it has a superb supporting cast headed by lovely Lois Wilson and Edward Horton, both featured. Wallace Worley directed the production.

"The Man Who Fights Alone" is from the story "The Miracle of Hate." You have all heard a lot about the miracles that have been performed by love, but sometimes the terrific emotional power of hate can do things even more startling.

Farnham has the role of a two-fisted engineer who wins the love of a beautiful girl who had also been courted by his best friend. Ill health makes it necessary for him to form a partnership with his friend who is an honorable man in every respect. As day after day he sees his wife and his friend talking, laughing, enjoying each other's company, suspicion and bitterness creep into his heart until there comes a time when his mind is so warped that he resolves upon a desperate course of action. How his little daughter saves him from the consequences of his own folly and how he is made to see his jealousy to be without foundation, form a mighty climax that will send the red blood finding and coursing thru your veins.

Cod Liver Oil in Sugar Coated Tablets For Puny Kids

Forget the nasty tasting, stomach upsetting cod liver oil, and give the thin, puny, underdeveloped children McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets if you want to give them a good appetite and put pounds of good, healthy flesh on their bones.

Doctors know all about them and so do F. B. Johnson and Company and Pitman and Wilson and all good pharmacists all over America, for they are in great demand, because they are not laggards but show results in a few days.

They are not expensive either—60 tablets—60 cents and children take them like candy.

A very sickly child, age 9, gained 12 pounds in seven months and is strong and healthy.

One skinny woman gained 9 pounds in 24 days.

"Be sure to get McCoy's the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablet."

in Oliver Morosco's "Slippy McGee," the first National attraction coming to the Princess Theatre on Wednesday. While the Morosco star cast was in Natchez, Miss., to film the popular Marie Conway Oemler story in the natural settings, several of the aristocratic mansions, mellowed with tradition and time, were thrown open to the filmers for the first time.

Among those which serve as background for the action of the story is "Ravenna," of the early Colonial period with proportions of such magnitude that it would be a staggering task to reproduce as a motion picture set. "Ravenna" is the home of Mrs. Richard Ingle Metcalf, of the third generation of lineal owners. It was shelled by the Union forces in the war and later was occupied by one of the Federal generals and his staff.

Charles Ray at Mystic

The bitter rivalry which exists between newspapers in a small town is depicted with startling fidelity in "Smudge," a First National release starring Charles Ray, which is at the Mystic theatre today.

Ray is cast as Steve Stanton, owner and editor of the Citrona Citizen. The other paper is the Citrona Bugle. The Bugle, as the organ of the orange growers in the vicinity, is in favor of "smudging," the means by which the orchardists fight the frost. The Bugle is the organ of the "reform element, which fights the use of smudge because it ruins the women's clothing and enriches the laundries.

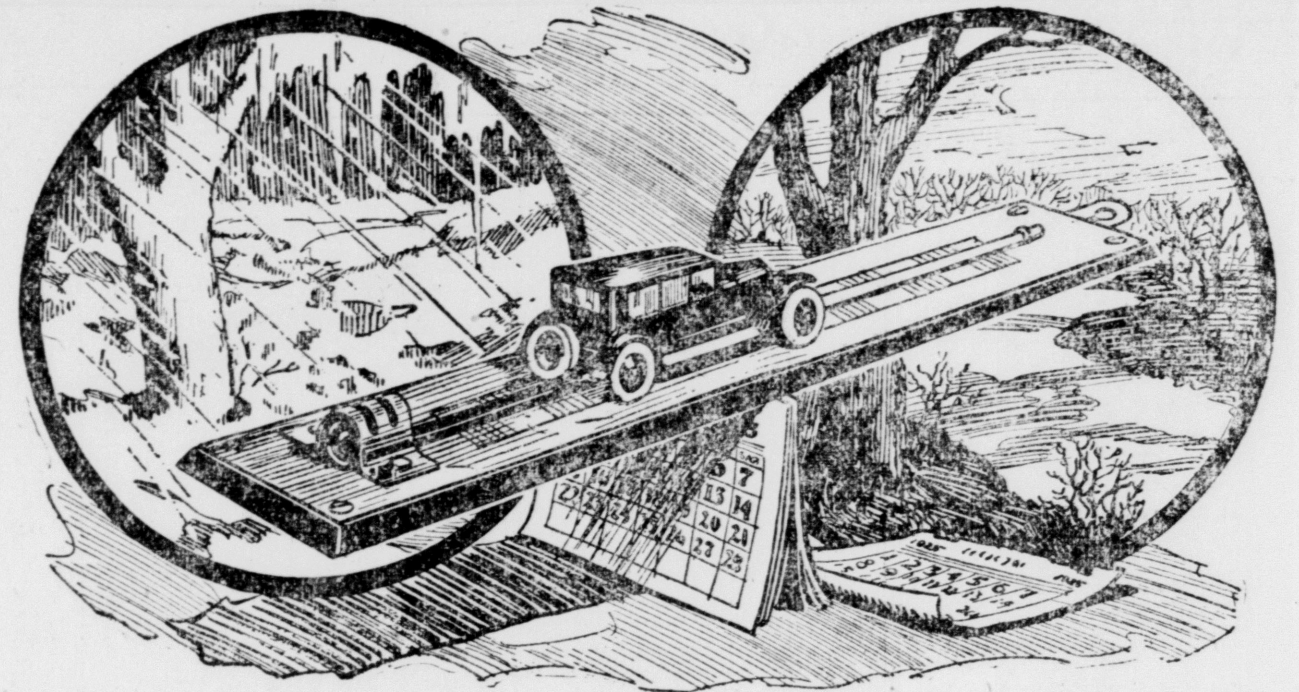

The management of the Bugle does not hesitate to use violence to accomplish its ends, but with the able assistance of a pretty girl, who had deserted the camp of his enemies, Steve is able to change a threatened defeat into victory.

THESE quick spring changes when the temperature see-saws at an hour's notice from warm to freezing, moist to dry — these are the tell-tale days of gasoline quality.

It's this between-season's temperature test that brings most sharply to the surface the difference between the smooth, even steadiness of Real Gasoline and the up-and-down unreliability of cheapened fuel — fitful in performance because it is tottery in its very chemical make-up

Defense Lays Their Case Before the Jury, Asserting That Direct Aim
Was Impossible

BERT WILSON ON TRIAL

Contention of Defense is That Wilson Could Not Have Fired at his Wife With Straight Aim

The shooting of Maggie Wilson, by her husband Bert Wilson, who is on trial in the circuit court, charged with assault with intent to kill, was an accident and an impossible feat
to get direct aim at Mrs. Wilson, were the outstanding points in the defense, offered at the trial today.

Evidence was completed shortly after court this afternoon, and the arguments were started. Each side was allowed an hour and it was expected that the case would be given to the jury at four o'clock for their deliberation.

The state finished with their portion of evidence, charging in their testimony that the husband came home early one Sunday morning recently, and attempted to kill his wife by shooting her.

The defense, in the opening statement by Raymond Springer, attorney, outlined the plan of procedure stating that they would prove that the location of the two persons in the house, was not in a direct line with each other, and that it would not have been possible for Wilson
to have shot directly at his wife with the intention of killing her.

The bullet, as fired by Wilson on that early morning, struck his wife in the arm, between the elbow and shoulder. The shot went through,
and lodged within the chest, and did not cause any serious results.

The state contended that the shooting was done with the intent purpose in mind of Wilson to kill his wife. The defense, on the other hand, contends in their testimony that the discharge of the gun was an accident, and that no direct aim could have been made at the woman.

Among the witnesses used this morning by the defense were many character witnesses, called upon to testify concerning their opinion of the defendant as to his reputation for peace and quietude.

The divorce suit of Hazle Snider against Olean Snider, which was heard recently, was decided by the court and the plaintiff awarded a de-

RAILROAD CONSIDERS PLAN FOR A SPECIAL

Basketball Fans of Columbus, Shelbyville and Rushville May be Accommodated on Saturday

FOR THE RICHMOND TOURNEY

A special train over the Pennsylvania railroad to accommodate basketball fans and teams, to play at Richmond, was practically assured
today, according to an announcement received from the general passenger agent at Louisville, in a communication to J. M. Higgins, local representative.

Mr. Higgins made inquiry Sunday on the plan, and this morning the plans were being made by the railroad company to operate a train Saturday for the convenience of the teams and fans from Columbus, Shelbyville and Rushville.

The arrangements to be completed will set out the time for the train. In all probability the train will leave Columbus in time to arrive in Richmond by noon. This would prevent the fans from attending the two morning games, of which there is little interest. All three teams, Shelbyville, Columbus and Rushville play in the afternoon and night games.

The train would return, leaving Richmond after the final game at night. Ample accommodations would be provided for all passengers, and it would keep the fans and teams together, being especially better for the teams than riding in machines.
Further details will be announced
later, concerning the rates, schedule and other items of interest.

Fire Whistle Is Signal For Phone Calls

People Warned That it is Waste of Time to Call Fire Department,
Telephone Office or Newspaper Office for Information. Whistle to Sound Box Number, if Box is Pulled.

People of Rushville, especially the women, always display a great deal of curiosity when the fire siren blows a general fire alarm. Telephones are kept busy as soon as the whistle blows. Phones that are especially worked overtime are the ones at the fire station, water and light plant, telephone office and the Daily Republican office.

As a rule, information as to the location of the fire cannot be given by any of these agencies, and it is useless to call in. When a fire is telephoned into the fire station, only the firemen who are on their way to the blaze, know where it is—the telephone exchange, water and light employees or anyone else, don't know.

The purpose of the general fire alarm is to warn people to be on the lookout for the apparatus. It is not for the purpose of inducing a crowd to collect, and as a matter of fact, the firemen do not want a crowd, it is pointed out.

If the alarm is from a box on a street corner, the siren will blow
the box number after the general
fire alarm signal has been sounded,
according to the decision reached by the council. A telephone alarm cannot define the location of the fire.

RUSHVILLE WILL BE A PATTERN FOR ADE STORY

Tom J. Geraghty Will Pay Tribute to His Fondness for His Own Home Town in Picture

ENTITLED "OLD HOME WEEK"

Rushville, Ind., will be patterned as nearly as possible for some of the scenes of "Old Home Week" the George Ade story, which will be the next starring vehicle for Thomas Meighan, according to Tom J.
Geraghty, scenarist for the picture,
who has been a guest at the Fleetwood hotel, according to a dispatch to the Indianapolis Star from Miami Florida. The cast, which includes Lila Lee, is now filming scenes at Ocala, Fla., and will later return to Miami, which will supply location
for the rest of the picture.

Mr. Geraghty also plans to make use of the distinctive background
offered by Miami and Miami Beach
in a story written for the screen around charming Bebe Daniels. Although Mr. Geraghty now calls
New York home, "Old Home Week"
will be a tribute to his particular fondness for Rushville, his own home town. From the editorship of the Rushville Republican, Mr. Geraghty went to New York as a special writer for the New York Herald,
and he is now accounted one of the most successful scenario writers of the country.

Staser was awarded a loving cup
for his work.

HELL 'N MARIA! THE NEW KID'S TOUGH

MEDALS PRESENTED IN LATIN CONTEST

Dr. J. C. Sexton Makes Presentation
Address to Five Winners in County Event

RECIPIENTS IN RESPONSE

Dr. J. J. Ray, Member of Richmond
Rotary Club, Speaks Entertainingly to Local Rotarians

Medals in the county Latin contest, which was held here a week ago last Saturday, were presented at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club today noon and Dr. J. J.
Ray, a member of the Richmond Rotary club and pastor of the First Presbyterian church, made a short talk to the club.

The presentation address was made by Dr. J. C. Sexton, who complimented the five girls present for their industry in excelling in Latin.
Each of the girls responded with a short talk, expressing appreciation for the interest shown in them by the Rotary club.

The medals were presented to Jean Craig, winner of first place in the freshman class division; Laura McMakin and Eulalia Hinchman,
winners of first and second places
in the sophomore class section; Evangeline Morgan and Viola Jay,
who placed first and second in the third division for Cicero students.
Miss Mary Maud Reed and Miss Julia McKibben, winners in the fourth division, also students of the Rushville high school, and Agnes Handly,
a student of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home in Center township, winner of second place in the freshman division, were unable to be present.

Dr. Ray spoke entertainingly of his experience in Rotary and paid a high compliment to the organization,
in which, he said, he valued very highly.

Arrangements were made at the meeting for nine members of the Rushville club to go to Columbus,
Ind., tonight for the formal presentation of a charter to the new Rotary club lately organized there.

A defective flue at the residence of George Roller, 601 North Arthur street, was the cause for a fire alarm Monday afternoon shortly before three o'clock. The roof had caught fire around the chimney, and the blaze was soon extinguished
when the firemen arrived. The loss was estimated at about $5.

COLD WAVE IS ON THE WAY Mercury Will Drop to Freezing by Morning, Is Predicted

Indianapolis, Ind., March 10—The wave of spring weather which carried temperatures 27 degrees above
the normal for this time of year,
will end late today, according to the weather bureau.

Cold winds from the northwest will carry the temperature down to the freezing point tonight, it was predicted.

The weather prediction for the next twenty-four hours, issued today, stated that the cold wave was due late tonight, and remain over Wednesday, with generally fair weather.

BOOSTERS BANQUET NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

Report of Activities of Fiscal Year
Will be Made and New Plans
Will Be Outlined

Dinner at Social Club Will be For all Those Who Attended First Meeting of Committee

The program was completed today for the annual Boosters' banquet, which will be held at the Social club rooms next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

At that time the report of the activities of the Rush County Boosters committee for the fiscal year will be presented and plans will be outlined for the coming year's work.

Cards have been sent to Rushville
men attending last year's banquet, urging their attendance at the second annual banquet, so that they may be given first hand information about what the committee has been doing during the year now closing.

The committee met a few weeks ago and elected new officers and set

WATSON ACCEPTS SPEAKING DATES

Now That Congress is Idle, Senator
Indiana Senator Will Make Few Non-Political Addresses

FIRST AT HARRISBURG, PA.

Accepts Invitation to Deliver Commencement Address at Indiana
State Normal, Terre Haute

(Special to The Daily Republican)

Washington, March 10—Invitations to deliver addresses pour in on Senator Watson from every part of the country most every week of the year. He is recognized as one of the most popular speakers among men in public life, so naturally
there is a demand for his oratory.

However, the senator makes it a rule to accept no speaking dates
during a session of congress because his official duties are so pressing he can scarcely spare a day from Washington. During the past winter it has been especially important that he remain constantly in the capitol
because of his duties as assistant leader of the senate as well as because of important legislation that had to be considered by the major committees of which he is a member.

However, now that the end of congress has come, the senator has accepted a few engagements for addresses on non-political subjects. He is to speak during the spring and summer months before various schools, churches, farmer and business organizations of Indiana. One of his first addresses will be delivered March 27 at Harrisburg, Pa., when the Robert Burns lodge of Masons will observe "Bobby Burns"
day. The life and works of the poet will be the Senator's topic.

Mr. Watson has accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address at the Indiana State Normal School at Terre Haute, June 19. He plans to attend the Northern Indiana Methodist Conference to be held at Anderson April 16. Roy A.
Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, will be a speaker at the conference and the Senator likely will be present to introduce him.

On April 21 the senator will be at Michigan City where he will be a special guest of business men. He likely will discuss the subject of federal taxation and its effect on business conditions. Senator Watson is a member of the Senate committee on finance which deals with taxation and he is known in Washington as one of the Senate's best students of the subject.

Explosion Of 50 Years Ago Recalled Today

Large Boiler in Saw Mill at What is Now Sexton Let Go March 10, 1875, Killing Man and Boy and Scattering Debris in Surrounding Woods and Fields

Today is the fiftieth anniversary
of an explosion at what is now Sexton, which cost the lives of two men, it was recalled today by John F. Joyce.

A twenty-one foot two tube boiler
let go about ten o'clock in the morning on March 10, 1875, scattering debris over surrounding woods and fields. The explosion occurred in the saw mill of Nelson and Shortridge.

Alfred A. Joyce, older brother of the narrator of the story, and Oscar Hinchman, 15 years old, son of James H. Hinchman, were the two persons killed. Mr. Joyce describes the incident in his own language as follows:

"While two were killed, it was fortunate that the day was clear and the usual crowd of loafers were busy on the farms, otherwise the loss of life might have been appalling for it was a great place for gatherings of farmers and others, whose sociability led them to the

No Definite Plans Formulated at Meeting of Commissioners, Council and City School Board

NEXT STEP IS UNCERTAIN

No definite plans were formulated
at a meeting of the county commissioners, city council, city school board and Judge Will M. Sparks, in the county auditor's office Monday evening, for the purpose of discussion the proposal that the county and city join in erecting a community building as a memorial to Rush county soldiers in the world war.

The question was discussed from various angles and at the conclusion of the meeting, no definite headway had been reached towards an understanding as to how to proceed.
The county commissioners proposed a community building when the city started a project to finance a school gymnasium, and the latter project has been marking time until some definite conclusion is reached regarding the community building.

Sentiment for a gymnasium was disclosed when approximately $5,000
was pledged last Thursday for season tickets to Rushville high school basketball games, during a canvass
of the city by high school students.
It is believed that more than this sum can be raised through the sale of tickets as many people were missed in the canvass.

Dan Boling, Living East of Rushville, Seriously Injured in Accident Here This Morning

IS EXPECTED TO RECOVER

Dan Boling, who lives on the Ernest Mitchell farm east of the city, was seriously injured this morning, when he was thrown from the big wagon in which he was riding, when his team of horses started to run away.

In his attempts to stop the horses, Mr. Boling succeeded in guiding them into the curbing in front of O'Neal's Implement store in South Main street, and as a result of the compact with the curbing he was thrown from the wagon, striking his head on the pavement.

He suffered a slight concussion of the brain, but otherwise he was not injured.

He was taken into the Scanlan hotel where a doctor was called and he was given a thorough examination. No bones were broken and it is thought he will recover from the concussion.

ASSEMBLY MAKES A GOOD SHOWING

Indiana Legislature Passes into History With Record of Having Passed Few Major Bills

WIELDS AX MORE FREELY

Hopes of Leaders For "Legislative Fast" Partially Realized—Less Than Half of 815 Bills Passed

By RAYMOND A. BRUNER

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 10—
Members of the seventy-fourth general assembly turned homeward today after the whirlwind wind-up of the session late Monday night.

As its last important act, the assembly voted the biennial appropriation bill calling for an expenditure of approximately $49,000,000 for the operation of the state government
during the next two years.

The 1925 legislature passes into history with the record of having passed fewer major bills and wielding the ax on more measures than any assembly in recent years.

Hopes of Speaker Leslie of the house and Lieutenant Governor Van Orman for a "legislative fast" were at least partially realized.

Only 815 bills were introduced in both houses during the session, and
of these less than half became laws.

The chief accomplishment of the legislature was a complete reorganization of the financial system of the state government.

The finance bills passed provided for concentration of all state funds
in the general fund of the state treasury, for abolishment of special levies for the state universities and other institutions, and for making the budget advisory committee a permanent body subject to the call of the governor at any time.

The legislature also voted approval of the administration measures for increasing the state gasoline tax from two to three cents and for creation of a state library and historical department by consolidation
of five existing bodies.

Other important measures passed
were bills provides for:
More strict enforcement of prohibition by codifying existing dry laws and making penalties heavier and conviction easier for their violation.

Regulation of commercial busses and trucks through the state public service commission.

Establishments of cooperative marketing associations for the collection and sale of farm products.

Strengthening the hand of the public service commission in regulating utilities through five measures

CLOTHING, SHOE STORE ROBBED, LITTLE TAKEN

Pair of Discarded Worn Work shoes
Left by Thief Only Clue to O. P.
C. H. Robbery

STORE ENTERED 3 YEARS AGO

Knecht's clothing store and the Ben A. Cox shoe store, which occupy the same room at 230 North Main street, was entered and robbed last Saturday morning, it was announced today, but very little of any value was taken, according to a check made by the proprietors of the two places.

The only trace they have of the theft is a pair of discarded, worn work shoes, which was left by the intruder. He wore away a new pair taken from the Cox shoe stock.
There are no identification marks on the old shoes and they provided no means of obtaining any clue to the identity of the robber.

The thief gained entrance by breaking the glass in the back door and reaching in and unlocking the door. The robbery did not take place until after midnight as E. J. Knecht of the Knecht Clothing company was in the store after that hour and nothing had been disturbed.

Knecht's store was robbed about three years ago and a large quantity of merchandise stolen. The burglars were finally apprehended and sent to prison.

Charles Beason and Laura Beason are plaintiffs in a suit filed against Floyd Porter and Amy Porter, the action being a complaint for eviction and damages. The plaintiffs demand possession of real estate, and for $100 damages.

A suit has been venued here from Decatur county, in which Eva Liggett is plaintiff and Bayard Liggett, is defendant, and the suit is a petition to show cause, involving a court citation for contempt.

The Marion Building and Investment Company have brought suit against Fred H. Dagler and Dorothy L. Dagler, the action being to foreclose on a mortgage, and with the demand for judgment being for $5,000.

The Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church will meet in the parlors of the church Wednesday afternoon. It is very important that all the members be present as business of importance will be transacted at this meeting.

hospitable shelter of the old saw mill, William Nelson was filing the saw, Alfred A. Joyce was engineer, George Kendall was in the saw pit, James H. Hinchman was talking to Shortridge about his sawing while his son Oscar stood holding their horses just east of the north end of the boiler.

"Hurry up Nelson," shouted the engineer. "Steam's getting too high and water low." Only three more teeth to file off. This done, then the signal "let her go" and the engineer stepped between the engine and the boiler to turn her off "dead" after giving her the steam. One revolution of the wheel and the make-shift force pump injected onto bare twisted boiler, smoke stack and ter and the earth shook with the deadly explosion. The air was filled with brick, steam dirt, broken plank, fragments of a torn and twisted boiler, smoke stack and engine and the mangled bodies of young Hinchman and Joyce.

"Hinchman was killed instantly but the team he was holding within thirty feet of the boiler was uninjured while Joyce was found about one hundred twenty feet east of where he stood when the explosion occurred, with the left side of his head, caved in. He lived until one o'clock, but never regained consciousness.

Same Fruit—Just A Different Tree

"No one else was injured and only that part of the shed covering the boiler was blown away. That mill was originally installed by Napp and Trohler in August 1874. March 17, 1825 I heard of the explosion by reading it in the Courier-Journal, while attending school at St. Mary's College, Marion county, Ky. The detonation was plainly heard there. The mill site is now the property of Mrs. Rebecca Newkirk."

ARLINGTON GIRL HURT

Miss Mary Baldrige of Arlington was severely injured Sunday afternoon, she being an occupant of the touring car driven by Ralph Suess, when it left the road about three miles north of Arlington and turned over. Miss Baldrige was thrown through the windshield and received a gash over her right eye, it requiring three stitches to close the wound. She was also bruised and suffered a nervous shock.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Explosion in Store Believed Recurrence Klan and Anti-Klan Feud

(By United Press)

Herrin, Ill., March 10—Two persons are in a hospital today dangerously injured following an explosion in the H. O. Fowler store here last night.

The explosion is believed to be a recurrence of the Klan and anti-Klan feud as Fowler is a klansman.

Fowler and his wife lived in an apartment above the brick building and they both were injured by the explosion which rocked the block. Mrs. Fowler is still unconscious and doctors think there is little chance of her recovery.

The explosion, said to have been caused by a dynamite bomb, broke windows in several buildings in the neighborhood.

ASSEMBLY MAKES A GOOD SHOWING

dealing with the commission's power over the utilities.

Prohibition salary increases for public officials during the term for which they are elected.

Increasing pay of members of the legislature from $6 to $10 a day effective in 1927.

Revaluation of real estate in Indiana this year.

Approximately $10,000 for the relief of relatives of the fifty-one miners killed in the disaster at Sullivan.

Appropriating $50,000 to stamp out the European foot pest in eastern Indiana.

Codifying existing auto laws and making more stringent the penalties for reckless driving.

Increasing the penalties for selling wood alcohol as a beverage.

Providing heavy penalties for "ticket scalping."

Strengthening the mine safety laws and making them applicable to smaller mines of the state.

Putting teeth in the blue sky laws to prevent sale of fraudulent and worthless securities in Indiana.

Authorizing the garnishment of all incomes to pay debts.

Regulating the sale of filled milk and oleomargarine.

The most spectacular feature of the entire session was the bolt of Democratic senators in protest against the Penrod gerrymandering bill and their flight to Dayton, O., to escape arrest when Republican members threatened to bring them into the senate chamber by force.

The Penrod bill, which sought to transfer Lawrence county from the third to the second congressional district to make the latter district safely Republican, was pushed through the senate in the closing day's session.

Democratic members remained silent in their seat and failed to vote on the bill, confident that rules in the house would not permit its consideration by that body at that late hour in the session.

Two Democratic measures—for abolishment of the state oil inspection department and the juvenile probation department—were voted down.

Bills for stricter observance of the Sabbath and for censorship of movies were killed.

Almost without a struggle, the bill to prevent holding of the auto races at the Indianapolis motor speedway on Decoration Day went down to defeat early in the session.

The bill furnished the cause for one of the hottest tilts of the entire session two years ago.

The soldier bonus bill and the county unit bill also were killed.

Other measures which were defeated at various stages in their journey through the legislature provided for:

Creation of a state department of safety.

Elimination of grade crossings.

Death penalty for auto banditry.

Old age pensions.

Increased compensation for working men under the state compensation laws.

Reorganization of the state public service commission.

Establishment of a state constabulary.

Limiting the tax rate of all local units of government to $2.50 per $100.

Revision of the state banking laws.

Abolishing the state fire insurance rate making bureaus.

Providing free text books for public school pupils.

Two legislative investigations, those of the public service commission and the state reformatory at Pendleton ended with praise instead of censure for the officials of the commission and the reformatory.

A third probe started into the affairs of the state highway commission was dropped after the Marion county grand jury had indicted John

THIEF CAPTURED

Desperate Man Behind Bars

Rushville breathes easier this noon after an exciting chase and capture of a noted criminal. This man has been at large for the past six months and has been sought for in many communities.

His terrible crime is that of amusing people. "The Thief of Bagdad" or in other words Douglas Fairbanks was captured in Chicago by the employees of the American Railway Express and was brought to Rushville this morning and is now safely locked in the vaults of the American National Bank of this city. He will be liberated Thursday afternoon for his showing at the Princess Theatre, Thursday Friday and Saturday of this week.

The Legislature

The seventy-fourth session of the Indiana General Assembly closed Monday night with an unusually good record to its credit. All critics of the assembly, of course, will not agree on the so-called good and evil legislation enacted, but they can all find a common ground in agreeing that the legislature did not show such a propensity for passing laws, as legislatures usually possess.

Only 815 bills were introduced in both branches of the legislature and considerably less than half of the number became laws.

A legislature that is able to resist the tendency to enact legislation to such a degree that more than fifty percent of the bills are killed, is worthy of some praise.

The chief accomplishment of the legislature was the complete reorganization of the state's financial system. The legislators followed the example of the federal government and enacted a budget law which embraces more than eighty percent of the state's expenses.

Although it may have spoiled some good legislation, the tendency of house and senate to kill each other's bills had a wholesome effect in preventing the passage of some thoroughly bad laws.

The republican "gerrymander bill" was passed by the senate when it had little prospect of passing the house at the last moment.

It was equally as fortunate for the taxpayers of Indiana that the "road ripper" bill did not become a law, although passed by the house when it had no show of being enacted into law through a favorable vote in the senate.

The appropriation bill was finally agreed on at the last hour and passed, minus the item for $150,000 for the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital. The legislators willingly permitted the omission of this sum, to be used to restore the lives of little cripples to usefulness and in the same vote concurred in the re-institution of an item for $150,000 for the old correction department, which has been condemned times

Coughs and Chest Colds Yield Quickly to Old Time Treatment

Physicians now say that the best treatment for a cough is not to merely numb the throat nerves as many cough medicines do, but to help Nature quickly throw off the cause—congestion and mucus. When this is done the severest cough is usually relieved in a very short time.

This is exactly the action of that old-time tried and proved cough medicine, Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. Doctors say the pine tar is hard to beat for quickly loosening and removing the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste, but helps soothe the soreness and irritation.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey and not some substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original and has been known for many years as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other cough-acting ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in bringing quick relief. Containing no opium or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic cough. If you want the best—a medicine that often relieves a stubborn cough overnight—get Dr. Bell's. Containing just what good drugs.

Gardens

The approach of spring—some call it spring—brings with it thoughts—and much talk—of gardens.

Everyone aspires—that is, most everyone—to be able to point to a plot of ground, carefully laid off, with the proud boast, "that is my garden."

Gardening pays, from whatever angle it is considered. The economy of home grown vegetables was demonstrated in the days of the war and many people then got the garden habit to such an extent that they now regard it a part of their life routine.

The value of vegetables as food, especially for children, has proved an incentive to gardening and has increased the interest of many people in growing much of their own foodstuffs.

The benefits are not alone in foods produced, but in the exercise gained for the gardener is stimulated in both body and mind. Spading the ground and working it, preparing the seed beds and sowing and planting bring a form of exercise that is most helpful and diversified.

Like a bolt out of a clear sky on a quiet September day came the scoop down on all the dry beer parlors of the city this morning. Without a minute's warning at least as far as anybody knows, a deputy sheriff quietly entered each dry beer parlor in the city and informed the proprietor that it would be inadvisable, impossible in fact, to take anything out of the place until the official "black Maria" arrived. Ninety-six cases of "beverage," each case containing three dozen quart bottles, making a total of 3,456 quarts, gleaned from the raid.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—As a bit of national advertising, the Coolidge inaugural excelled all previous presidential pageants. This partly because of party in spite of President Coolidge.

From an administration standpoint, the inauguration was shaped further to advertise "Coolidge economy" to the country.

It was designed as a selling demonstration for horse sense and reduced expenditures. The little two-by-four reviewing stand built in front of the White House, elimination of an elaborate "court of honor," curtailing of the parade itself and lack of lavish and expensive decorations all united to give force and effect to the idea of economy.

All this advertising of the administration's viewpoint and purpose was with the full aid and approval of the president.

THE advertising that was achieved in spite of the president, however, was accomplished by the great new Mayflower Hotel, which is making its bid for the patronage of statesmen and dignitaries, and which was hurried to completion in time to cash in on the publicity opportunity presented by an inauguration.

For while an "official" inaugural ball—which would have been held in some commodious public building—was banned by the president, an "unofficial" charity ball was arranged for the main ball room of the Mayflower Hotel. As a result of which, news stories and special articles, like this, have done more to fix the Mayflower in the public mind, as a modern up-to-date Washington hotel instead of an antiquated sailing vessel, than could have been accomplished in a year by a costly campaign of paid advertising.

HISTORICALLY, the opening of the Mayflower with an inaugural ball, even though name was unofficial, may be more important than it seems on the surface.

It may mark the beginning of a decline in social circles of the prestige assumed by those who never forget to let the world know that their ancestors "came over on the Mayflower."

To the dowager who hereafter announces her Mayflower descent, the frivolous dapper of today may make the fitting retort that she herself danced in the Mayflower when Cal took the oath.

In another way, too, the Mayflower marks a step ahead in the capital's evolution. It gives to downtown Washington a hostelry that is essentially metropolitan in its aspect.

The building is an enormous pile occupying almost an entire city block.

It offers not only all the "conveniences" but all the frills, including even the wife of a former Russian czarist official as "hostess," to give an atmosphere of distinction and class to its tea room.

WHILE on the subject of hotels, it might be said that Washington is suffering from an epidemic of hotelitis.

In the past six years the hotel capacity of the capital has more than doubled. During the war period, when a room and bath in Washington brought any price the management had the nerve to ask, the hotels then here made enormous profits.

And of course there is always the parade of politicians and the men with axes to grind and money to spend for the grinding. These are the folks who keep the hotels hot.

Visitors who sought shelter for one or two nights during the inauguration, however, were uniformly informed that in order to get quarters for one night they would have to pay for four. No reservations for less than four nights would be booked. Too much advertising!

Motor Miles for all Mankind

Inspiring the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is one comprehensive conviction: that the great gift of science to man—that of motor transportation—should be brought within the reach of all.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is doing its part to bring this condition about by making enough gasoline to meet the demands; selling it at a low price, and distributing it so widely and so thoroughly that every one may command it at will.

To render a service so essential to the public welfare, an organization must have foresight, initiative, size and power.

To reduce the cost of refining; to standardize the quality of gasoline, and to conquer the difficulties of thorough distribution, requires vast resources, facilities and experience.

The ideal of service to all, has been the stimulus and incentive behind every expansion of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

In building great steel tanks to hold oil in safety and without waste; in organizing tank wagon fleets, or building outpost service stations; in devising more economical refinery methods—the determination to serve has inspired the effort that overcame difficulties and made Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products, household words.

This Company has never been baffled by the magnitude or difficulty of any task. It never has shirked toil nor the burden of initiative! It has blazed the trail, and the fruit of its daring is—gasoline for all, at prices all can afford to pay.

The efforts of this Company have been abundantly rewarded. It is axiomatic that genuine service, honestly rendered, always receives its just reward. But the profits won are only part of the pay, for this organization sincerely rejoices in the thought that through its exertions, motor miles for business or pleasure, have been increased, bringing easier living, better health and wider opportunities to millions of families.

The old battle cry again today: ON TO RICHMOND!

Don't forget to buy your regional ticket early, because it is very probable that the 500 pasteboards will be sold in short order.

A headline in the Seymour Tribune is as follows:

FREETOWN SHOWS FANS REAL STUFF
That is the team Rushville meets at three o'clock Saturday afternoon. Show them real stuff.

Remember this: Freetown must be good, or they wouldn't be there!

Don't make the mistake that has been made in the past. Take 'em as they come. Trounce Freetown and then go after Columbus and step on them. IT MUST BE DONE!

Nine-tenths of the contributors over the state are picking Richmond and Columbus as the two winners in the Richmond regional. That's one reason why Rushville should again turn the trick on Columbus and make 'em like it.

It would be a good thing if Connersville and Rushville could represent the regional this year. When Connersville is playing Richmond in the 7:30 game Saturday night, boost for Connersville, and join forces in those two night games.

HERE IS SOME DOPE ON FREETOWN

Concerning that Freetown team, of which little is known, the following may be of interest to Coach Swain, members of the team and others who expect to see the team, in action Saturday. The clipping concerns the game in which they played Saturday at Seymour:

Freetown sprung the great surprise of the tournament when they landed with both feet on Cortland in the 3 o'clock game and had them on the run, Freetown leading 17 to 5 at the end of the first half. Freetown brought in their star men when they had conserved in the morning game as far as possible, and the boys from Pershing township created the sensation of the day. They kept Kerkhof and Boforff covered and plunked the ball into the basket with some consistency while the crowd howled like Indians. In that first half the line-up started with B. Sprague and Spurgeon at forward, Lucas at center and C. Sprague and Myers at guards for Freetown and Cortland used Boforff and Kerkhof at forwards, Nelson at center and Reedy and Wilson at guards. In field goals B. Sprague rang 2, Spurgeon 2, Lucas 1 and C. Sprague 3 in the first half while Kerkhof and Nelson got 1 each and B. Sprague and Kerkhof each got one from foul.

They continued their attack against Cortland during the second half and emerged victors 28 to 18 and thereby go to the finals with Brownstown this evening at 8 o'clock fresher than the county seat and with some chance of coping the hunting. They have a world of power. Freetown were the favorites with the fans.

In field goals the finals show B. Sprague 4, Spurgeon 3, Lucas 3, C. Sprague 3, all getting into the going with two fouls by B. Sprague.

VINCENNES SAYS THIS:

Marion has won fifteen out of eighteen games played this year. And Vincennes plays Marion in the finals—if the Alices reach that point.

RUSHVILLE SAYS THIS:

Take 'Em as They Come!

Moscow overlooked Manila in the tourney last Saturday. Moscow was all keyed up to meet Rushville in the afternoon game, and as they had defeated Manila four times, it was the least of their worries. These

THESE GRAPES ARE ALMOST SOUR

Milroy, Ind.

Dear Hitin' 'em:—The tourney is over at last and before it is gone forever I should like to say a word. We have a couple of pretty nice reasons for not beating Rushville. In the first place Moore, our center was off on account of an injured leg. He usually comes in for a good deal of points too, furthermore and it is sure a fine thing for the Lions or the score board would have presented an entirely different score when that blamed gun went off.

Selby, our pretty kid, had to take his place and Boring was substituted as forward. This seemed to break up Milroy's scoring machine as Selby is sure a fine one at forward. In the second place our boys and your Roarin' Lions made quite an unusual contrast especially in weight. Rushville had them outweighed good and proper. Say boy, I always thought Archey, our guard, was big, but when I saw that Miller and Lakin, I soon changed my mind and changed it quick. I think "charging Elephants of Rushville" would be a more appropriate name for such giants.

Thank goodness we don't raise any such looking monsters down about Milroy or the whole town would pitch their tents in some land where elephants were extinct, now and forever. I'll have to admit Rushville has a good team but all we needed to make 'em shine was a different floor and our regular line-up and we would have had a nice piece of lion steak.—(The writer continues to offer comments but on account of the length of the contribution, it is cut short. It ends up by saying that he is picking Martinsville to win the state, and not Rushville.)

Yours, A MILROY ROOTER

ANOTHER CENTER WAS OUT

To top off the above, comes a letter from Carthage, signed by a Miss Henley, in which she very nicely says that "If we had our regular center, Heim, Milroy wouldn't have played Rushville in the final game, but it would have been Carthage." The final count was 30 to 23.

BUT THE SECTIONAL IS PAST, AND NOW IT IS UP TO RUSHVILLE TO WIN THE REGIONAL ON TO RICHMOND!

Scandal Dimmed

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 10—With all of the major league teams at work in southern training camps and the minors also preparing for the 1925 pennant races, baseball is back again with prominence in sporting chatter.

Even though it is quite apparent that the Dolan-O'Connell scandal has been dropped there are enough indications of interest in the coming season to make it certain that scandal will not affect the popularity of the game.

There always may be a feeling perhaps that the real facts were not made known and that someone was behind Dolan and O'Connell in their attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, the Philadelphia shortstop, but it is not fair to entertain suspicions that there was any official attempts made to hide the guilty ones.

Commissioner Landis went as far as he could. Cozy Dolan wouldn't talk to him and he refused to remember anything when he was examined in the investigation conducted by the district attorney's office in New York. Dolan, it would seem from the developments in the two investigations, held the key to the solution of the case and as long as he refused to talk there could be no hope for a solution.

Among the ball players the belief is almost unanimous that it was a practical joke, although a very dangerous form of amusement. Fans, however, find it hard to believe that ball players would go to such hazardous limits for entertainment. It has been suggested that Sand was picked out because he was of the O'Connell unsophisticated type and they never thought that he would talk. If that is the case, practical jokers should pick their spots better in the future.

John A. Heydler, president of the National League, is one of those who ridicule the idea that it was a joke. "Under the conditions and at that particular time, it hardly could have been meant as a joke," he said commenting upon the case.

It is quite certain also unless ball players are more thick above the eyebrows than they are generally rated, that Cozy Dolan and the other players involved would have said that it was a big joke before the scandal had been made public. The joke alibi came a little bit late to be taken.

Meyer and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Peters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Peters, Mrs. Freelove Peters and Miss Alice Peters, all of this city, Walter Peters of Seymour and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kehl of near Glenwood.

TELEPHONE GIRL NOW WELL

Suffered Two Years, Relieved By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marshalltown, Iowa.—"At the time I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a telephone operator, and had been suffering for two years with bearing-down pains and cramps in my legs so I could scarcely walk. At times I could not do any kind of work on account of my trouble. My mother was taking the medicine for the change of life and she thought it would help me and it did. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I recommend your medicines to my friends and I will answer all letters asking about them."—Mrs. P. E. EVERTS, Box 143, Marshalltown, Iowa.

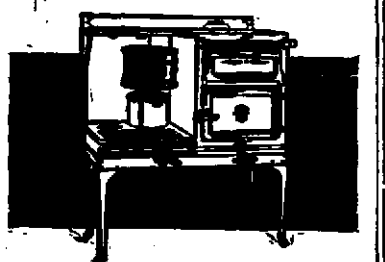

Mrs. Norton's Experience
"Before I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was weak and nervous, and had such terrible dizzy spells that I could not stand some days. I had no appetite, was restless at night and felt all run-down. My husband got me a bottle of the Vegetable Compound and I am surprised at the results after taking it."—Mrs. CLARENCE S. NORTON, 18 Pierce St., Dover, N. H.

Handkerchief Points

FASHION is fickle, no doubt, but she does remain true to handkerchief points on dancing frocks. Undoubtedly, they make the most flattering hemline there is, which is excuse enough for her constancy. Crystal beads and silver embroidery also embellish this lovely Nile green creation and give it a moonlight effect.

Miss Ella Stewart had for her Sunday dinner guests at her home in this city, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore.

Mrs. George King was delightfully surprised Monday evening at her home west of the city by a number of her friends and neighbors, the occasion being in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent in tuffy pulling and playing cards.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ronan and sons Virgil and Darrel entertained Sunday at dinner the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ronan and son Leon and Miss Velma Ronan of Connersville, Ore. Myers and son Lewis of Henderson and Raymond Dyer.

Twenty-nine relatives and friends enjoyed a double wedding pitch-in dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Pollitt and family, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pollitt and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welch, who were recently married. Mrs. Pollitt was formerly Mrs. Daisy Chance of this city, and Mrs. Welch was formerly Miss Pearl Pollitt, an inspector of the Rushville Glove Company. Mr. Pollitt is a truck driver for the Reynolds Manufacturing company and Mr. Welch is a farmer living near Connersville.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Moore and daughter Ruth of Carthage, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Stewart and daughter Phyllis and son Harold, Mrs. Earl Nigh and son Charles of near Carthage, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pollitt and son Robert Eugene and daughter Betty.

SIMPLE REMEDY WORKS WONDERS HEALING CUTS AND WOUNDS

The amazing results in healing cuts, wounds, burns, old sores, chapped hands, boils, bruises, skin diseases with CORONA Wool Fat Ointment have caused this wonderful remedy to be called "The World's Greatest Healing Ointment." SPRING

Spring is synonymous with hope and hope with rebirth. It has a smell all its own, a spirit its own, a temperament quite unique. We love it for all these and we are rushed off our feet to follow it, each year. We express ourselves through our gardens, our scrubbery, in short we give her every opportunity to use us as her agent for natural beauty at a time when nature is teeming.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has a garden week—April 19, to 26—during which time the individual club is asked to stress the individual garden. Then there is a reawakened interest in the "plant a tree" movement. Organized women throughout our United States have used their influence to encourage the planting of trees. Some have been memorial to individuals; avenues of trees have been planted honoring our recent war victims. Community Christmas trees, fine specimens of the fast-disappearing evergreen fir, have been forever preserved by women who have feared for the perpetuity of this magnificent species. Millions are sacrificed annually for Christmas trees but our federation president, Mrs. Sherman, presents the delightful idea that we transplant one to our own yard as a permanent institution.

These are worthwhile activities within the reach and interest of every club. Would it not prove an exquisite pleasure to some Rush county club to propose and further some such measure as would prove a lasting memorial in its community? Plant a tree, plan a flower garden, or improve your scrubbery while the vigors and inspiration of spring courses through your being.

The Research Club of Milroy will have a meeting, March 10th, with Mrs. Lida Cady.

HOW SINCLAIR OPENED NEGOTIATIONS WITH FALL

FALL ARRIVES IN CHEYENNE

Federal Court room, Cheyenne, Wyo., Mar. 10—How Harry Sinclair and his personal attorney, Col. J. W. Zevely of Washington, opened negotiations with former secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall at his Three Rivers, New Mexico, home, was detailed to the court today in the Teapot Dome trial.

Zevely's deposition was read by Owen J. Roberts, of the government council. The testimony told how Sinclair and Zevely, after seeing Fall at Three Rivers, December 31, 1921, presented a bid on February 3, with the government which would save its oil from drainage, secure a pipe line and other alleged advantages.

Fall had not arrived in Cheyenne early today. He was reported in Denver waiting until he was called by the government. Sinclair was waiting at his hotel here where he has forty rooms for his entourage.

Jane of Milroy, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Moore and sons Noah and Russell of near Knightstown, Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Tureck of Gwynnville, John, Eva, Effie and Ellen Welch, Henry and Anthony Snider and Alta Byrd, all living near Connersville, Clifford McNichol of Indianapolis and Joseph Moore of Washington, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pollitt reside at 415 North Arthur street and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Welch will reside near Connersville.

Miss Marian Kinsinger, a student of DePauw University, Greencastle, Indiana, has been initiated into the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Kinsinger of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Coyne, daughter Rosemary and son Thomas Ivan of Indianapolis were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Coyne Sunday at their home northeast of the city.

BURNS ARE FATAL

Greencastle, Ind., March 10—Helen Gant, 6, died early today at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kent, living near Cloverdale, from burns received late Monday when her clothing caught fire while at play. The little girl was playing near a fire over which her father had been smoking meat.

OUSTED SENATORS TO CARRY FIGHT AT HOME

LAFOLLETTE IN THE LIST

Washington, March 10—The four ousted senate Republicans intend to carry their protests to their constituents this summer.

Rebellious at the action of the senate in adopting the plan of Republican leaders, which drops Senators Ladd, North Dakota, Frazier, North Dakota, Republican; Brookhart, Iowa, Republican and LaFollette, Wisconsin, Republican, to the bottom of the committee lists. The members intend to appeal in speeches to the voters back home.

The three members of the quartet now here, believe the Republicans of their states have been deprived of their privileges. LaFollette is now in Florida.

The report of the majority confirmed the ouster proceedings was adopted by a vote of 64 to 11 by the senate late yesterday after a five hour floor fight.

APPROVES SENATE'S ACTION

(By United Press)

Washington, March 10—President Coolidge thoroughly approved of the expulsion by the republican senate majority of the four LaFollette supporters from committee chairmanships and assignments, it was said at the White house today.

The spokesman for the president said Mr. Coolidge did not regard the expulsion of the independents as either punishable or discipline but rather fulfillment of a promise made during the last campaign.

SUFFERS BROKEN BONE

Mrs. Carlton Chaney, who suffered a broken collar bone last Saturday morning, when she was struck by a truck, driven by Rue Matney at her home near Glenwood is improving nicely.

FOURTH TIME SUCCESSFUL

South Bend, Ind., March 10—Otto Rush, 47, a furniture dealer, was successful in his fourth attempt to end his life. He used a gun once, gas twice and on Monday took poison. Business reverses were held responsible for the act.

THREE PROBES AUTHORIZED

Senate Votes to Investigate Senatorial Contests in 3 States

Washington, March 10—Resolutions authorizing investigation by the senate privilege and election committee of three senatorial contests in New Mexico, Minnesota and Iowa, were adopted by the senate today.

Holme Burkum is contesting the election of Samuel Brattam, democrat of New Mexico, Daniel F. Steck is contesting the election of Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa and Magnus Johnson, former laborite, is contesting the election of Thomas B. Schall of Minnesota.

The senate action came without debate following favorable report on the resolutions by the audit and control committee.

"The Man Who Fights Alone"

"The Man Who Fights Alone" at the Castle today is unusual in theme and gripping in story. What is more it marks the screen comeback of William Farnum, this time, under the Paramount banner. On top of that, it has a superb supporting cast headed by lovely Lois Wilton and Edward G. Robinson, both featured. Wallace Worsley directed the production.

"The Man Who Fights Alone" is from the story "The Miracle of Hate." You have all heard a lot about the miracles that have been performed, by love, but sometimes the terrific emotional power of hate can do things even more startling.

Farnum has the role of a two-fisted engineer who wins the love of a beautiful girl who had also been courted by his best friend. Ill health makes it necessary for him to form a partnership with his friend who is an honorable man in every respect. As day after day he sees his wife and his friend talking, laughing, enjoying each other's company, suspicion and bitterness creep into his heart until there comes a time when his mind is so warped that he resolves upon a desperate course of action. How his little daughter saves him from the consequences of his own folly and how he is made to see his jealousy to be without foundation, form a mighty climax that will send the red blood tingling and coursing thru your veins.

"Slippy McGee" Coming

Some of the most historic of the old Southern mansions will be seen in Oliver Morosco's "Slippy McGee," the First National attraction coming to the Princess Theatre on Wednesday. While the Morosco star cast was in Natchez, Miss., to film the popular Marie Conway Oemler story in the natural settings, several of the aristocratic mansions, mellowed with tradition and time, were thrown open to the filmers for the first time.

Among those which serve as background for the action of the story is "Ravenna," of the early Colonial period with proportions of such magnitude that it would be a staggering task to reproduce as a motion picture set. "Ravenna" is the home of Mrs. Richard Ingle Metcalf, of the third generation of local owners. It was shelled by the Union forces in the war and later was occupied by one of the Federal generals and his staff.

Charles Ray at Mystic

The bitter rivalry which exists between newspapers in a small town is depicted with startling fidelity in "Smudge," a First National release starring Charles Ray, which is at the Mystic theatre today.

Ray is cast as Steve Stanton, owner and editor of the Citrona Citizen. The other paper is the Citrona Bugle. The Bugle, as the organ of the orange growers in the vicinity, is in favor of "smudging," the means by which the orchardists fight the frost. The Bugle is the organ of the "reform element, which fights the use of smudge because it ruins the women's clothing and enriches the laundries.

The management of the Bugle does not hesitate to use violence to accomplish its ends, but with the able assistance of a pretty girl, who had deserted the camp of his enemies, Steve is able to change a threatened defeat into victory.

Cod Liver Oil In Sugar Coated Tablets For Puny Kids

Forget the nasty tasting, stomach upsetting cod liver oil, and give the thin, puny, underdeveloped children McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets if you want to give them a good appetite and put pounds of good, healthy flesh on their bones.

Doctors know all about them and so does F. B. Johnson and Company and Pitman and Wilson and all good pharmacists all over America. For they are in great demand, because they are not laggards but show results in a few days.

They are not expensive either—60 tablets—60 cents and children take them like candy.

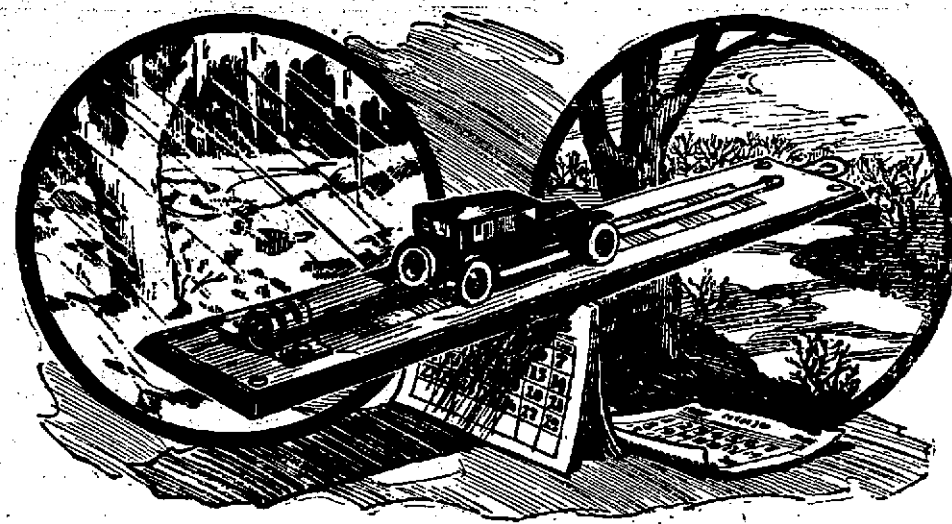

A very sickly child, age 9, gained 12 pounds in seven months and is strong and healthy.

One skinny woman gained 9 pounds in 24 days.

"Be sure to get McCoy's the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablet."

Teetery Weather for Tottery Gas

THESE quick spring changes when the temperature see-saws at an hour's notice from warm to freezing, moist to dry — these are the tell-tale days of gasoline quality.

It's this between-season's temperature test that brings most sharply to the surface the difference between the smooth, even steadiness of Real Gasoline and the up-and-down unreliability of cheapened fuel — fitful in performance because it is tottery in its very chemical make-up

Silver Flash Gasoline

vaporizes at once in chill weather as it does in warm. It gives uniformity of performance regardless of external conditions. Its consistent use in every season rewards you with the certainty of full power, and the knowledge that your motor is freed from the dangers of kerosene and the detrimental effects of free carbon.
